FISCAL PLAN SUMMARY SOUTH-WEST A BLOOMINGTON ANNEXATION

The City of Bloomington is considering annexing eight* separate areas currently located outside of but contiguous to the City, as part of a formal process that began in 2017. If adopted, these annexations would not take effect until January 1, 2024. As a part of the process, the City engaged Reedy Financial Group P.C., which specializes in local government finance, to work with City departments to analyze and prepare a written fiscal plan and definite policy for the extension of City services to each annexation area, as well as the estimated effect on taxpayers, municipal finances, and other political subdivisions. The specific ordinance and fiscal plan resolution numbers for these eight annexations are as follows:

Area	Name	Ord. No.	Fiscal Plan Res. No.
1A	South-West A	Ord 17-09	Res 21-09
1B	South-West B	Ord 17-10	Res 21-10
1C	South-West C	Ord 17-11	Res 21-11
2	South-East	Ord 17-12	Res 21-12
3	North Island	Ord 17-13	Res 21-13
4	Central Island	Ord 17-14	Res 21-14
5	South Island	Ord 17-15	Res 21-15
7	North	Ord 17-17	Res 21-16

This document provides a detailed summary of information set forth in each fiscal plan resolution. A complete copy of the fiscal plan is available on the City’s website dedicated to the proposed annexations, located at bloomington.in.gov/annex.

FISCAL PLAN FORMAT & OVERVIEW

The fiscal plan generally includes three parts. The first part provides a comprehensive review of the annexation areas and overall plan for the extension of City services, including:

- an overview of the proposed annexation areas and their growth and development;
- maps of the individual annexation areas;
- basic data for the annexation areas, including property tax rate information, population estimates, and road miles;
- a description of the services provided by the City by department, with the overall estimated additions for each department as a result of the comprehensive annexation proposal, and the timing of providing those services to the annexation areas;
- an estimate of the combined revenue for all annexation areas, followed by the overall range of estimated noncapital and capital costs by department, and the projected range of combined revenues compared against costs;

* The proposed areas no longer include the “Northeast” annexation previously identified as area 6.

- the estimated impact on taxes and revenues for other impacted taxing units in the County, including information related to current revenue, reductions in service responsibilities, and available cash balances; and
- data on the average estimated financial impact on landowners, including tax rates of comparable municipalities.

The second part of the fiscal plan provides a detailed breakdown of projected noncapital and capital costs by department, estimated revenue, and estimated revenue compared to costs for each separate annexation.

Part three of the fiscal plan includes a list, for each annexation, of all parcels in the annexation territory, including the owner name, parcel identification number, most recent assessed value, and whether the City has identified a waiver of the right to remonstrance for the respective parcels. In addition, as discussed below, the City has prepared a parcel-by-parcel analysis of the estimated financial impact of the annexation, which is also available on the website at bloomington.in.gov/annex.

EXTENSION OF SERVICES

As is more fully outlined in the fiscal plan, all City noncapital services (such as police and fire protection (where allowed by law), street and road maintenance, etc.) will be provided within one year of the effective date, and in some instances immediately upon the effective date. All City capital services (such as street construction, street lighting, storm water drainage, etc.) will be provided to the annexation areas within three years of the effective date.

The table below itemizes the capital and non-capital municipal services of the City by department, and shows the projected date that those services will be provided. Further details are provided in the fiscal plan for each annexation, as noted above.

Service/Department	Non-Capital Services Provided Within (from effective date)	Capital Services Provided Within (from effective date)
Legal	1 year	Immediately
Controller	1 year	Immediately
Community & Family Resources	1 year	Immediately
Parks	1 year	3 years
Human Resources	1 year	3 years
Mayor	Immediately	Immediately
Public Works	1 year	3 years
Housing & Neighborhood Development	1 year	3 years
Planning & Transportation	1 year	3 years
Information Technology	1 year	3 years
Economic & Sustainable Development	1 year	Immediately
Common Council	Immediately	Immediately
City Clerk	Immediately	Immediately
Engineering	1 year	3 years

Police	1 year	3 years
Fire	1 year, where allowed by law	3 years, where allowed by law
Utilities	1 year	3 years
Transit	1 year	3 years

Had the City been permitted to complete the annexations when it initiated the process in 2017, the City would have been the fire provider for all of the annexation areas following the effective date of the annexations, and the City planned accordingly at that time. However, an intervening change in the law now directs that areas served by the Monroe Fire Protection District (MFPD) will instead continue to receive fire protection services from MFPD and not Bloomington, and also directs that those areas must pay the MFPD fire rate rather than Bloomington’s lower fire service rate. As a result, the fiscal plan acknowledges that the City understands that all annexed parcels in Benton, Bloomington, Perry, and Van Buren Townships will continue to pay the MFPD property tax rate and receive MFPD fire services, while those newly annexed areas within Richland and Salt Creek Townships would receive fire services from the City. The plan also demonstrates that the City would be able to provide fire protection at a substantial savings to taxpayers compared to the tax rate imposed by the Monroe Fire Protection District. Because of the City’s superior ISO rating, property owners and residents would also have lower potential insurance costs in those areas where the City is allowed to provide fire protection service.

In all cases, the level of services provided by the City will be provided in a manner consistent with how they are provided to similarly situated areas of the City, or as is otherwise required by applicable law. The total estimated costs will depend on the areas ultimately annexed, but the City anticipates hiring additional personnel for Police, Fire Utilities, Public Works, Planning & Transportation, Parks, Controller, Mayor’s Office, Engineering, Human Resources, Housing & Neighborhood Development, and/or the Community & Family Resources Departments. Examples of significant proposed capital expenditures for the annexations include, among other expenses, fire station upgrades (construction of two new fire stations if the City were permitted to be the fire provider for all areas as discussed above) with related fire equipment and engines, street improvements and maintenance equipment, street and sanitation equipment (e.g., trash service trucks), and funding for new trails and parks.

The fiscal plan’s total estimated ranges of noncapital and capital costs for the first year (assuming full capital expenditures in year one) for each department are set forth in the table below. A further breakdown of each department and each annexation area for the first four years following the effective date is set forth in the fiscal plan.

Service/Department	Total Estimated Non-Capital Costs	Total Estimated Capital Costs

Transit	$192,000	$160,000

The City anticipates issuing a bond in the first year the annexations become effective, payable from the revenue stream from the annexations (i.e., as a part of the already anticipated new revenue, not as a separate tax rate), for the capital costs. In this way, the City will have the funding available for the capital expenditures as soon as the annexations become effective. The funds will be available for the capital costs as the projects are ready for purchase or construction.

FINANCIAL IMPACT

Annexations add a municipal “layer” of property taxes to the existing tax layers on a property (school, county, township, library, etc.), and the City anticipates that most properties in the annexation areas will experience a tax increase after the annexations are effective. In other words, if properties are annexed effective 2024, they would begin paying the City’s tax “layer” with their 2025 property tax payment.

The estimated property tax rates pre- and post- annexation (including with the proposed bond issue) from the fiscal plan, broken down by which township a property is located within, is as follows:

Township	Proposed Annexation Areas	Pay 2021 Unincorporated Taxing District Property Tax Rate	Pay 2021 Incorporated Taxing District Property Tax Rate	Pro Forma Post Annexation Tax Rates (Default Assumption: City Provides Fire Services to Richland & Salt Creek Only)	Pro Forma Post Annexation Tax Rates (Hypothetical Scenario: City Provides Fire to all Annexed Parcels)

The fiscal plan includes data showing that these post-annexation rates for Bloomington are substantially lower than the rates paid by property owners in other cities and towns (and even some unincorporated areas) around the state. As the tables below demonstrate, property taxes in Bloomington are the lowest of surrounding cities and towns, and the second lowest of the 21 largest cities in Indiana.

The fiscal plan also provides that many property owners will also see offsets against the post-annexation tax rates, including:

- credits based on tax caps (no one will pay property taxes of more than 1% of the assessed value for their residential homestead, regardless of whether inside or outside of the City);
- lower potential insurance costs due to the City’s strong ISO rating for fire service, where the City is allowed to provide the fire service;
- decreases in stormwater fees, hydrant rental, and sewer charges, which are all lower for City residents;
- a potential increased federal income tax deduction;
- homeowners over 65 with a homestead assessed value under $199,999 and adjusted gross income less than $30,000 ($40,000 if filing jointly) will experience no more than a 2% increase in their property taxes in any year; and
- property assessed as agricultural would not see a property tax increase from the annexation while it remains agricultural.

The annexation areas also will not pay for any existing City debt, meaning the annexation areas will pay a lower City tax rate than property owners in the City currently. As referenced above, as part of the fiscal plan Reedy Financial Group has prepared a detailed parcel-by-parcel analysis of the anticipated fiscal impact from annexation. This parcel-by-parcel analysis is available on the City’s annexation website, bloomington.in.gov/annex.

The fiscal plan also includes the estimated impact on the allocation of revenues to other taxing units in the county. The total estimated projected future allocation impact on each of these taxing units according to the fiscal plan, if all currently proposed areas are annexed, is set forth in the table below.

However, due to the proposed delay in the annexation effective dates, the projected impact on revenue allocation is expected to be offset by permissible growth in the levies of the overlapping units over the four years preceding the annexations, as demonstrated by the table below.

Unit	Total Revenue (1)	Levy Increase projection - 2021-2025 (based on 4.2% growth * 4 years)	Net of Circuit Breaker and Annexation Allocation Adjustments	Equals: Net Effect

All residents in the annexation areas will also continue to pay property taxes to Monroe County for county services, as current City residents do. In other words, all City residents will continue to support county services like the Monroe County Courts System, County Jail, Sheriff's Office, and even the County road system located outside of the City. Monroe County will also have the option of keeping its full tax levy after annexation, meaning there is not an automatic decrease in its property tax levy that coincides with decreased responsibility. The primary services currently provided by the County in the annexation areas that would become the responsibility of the City include police protection, road maintenance, stormwater, planning, sanitation, and economic development services. The fiscal plan indicates that the County's allocation impact from annexation is largely a result of the tax caps and a share of levy related funding for services to the annexation area – like the gasoline taxes for road funding – being shifted to the City along with the service responsibility. Monroe County is projected to experience a net surplus of $193,304 in county street funding due to the reduction in road miles that the County will no longer be responsible for maintaining. The fiscal plan also identifies over $60 million in cash reserves that could be available to the County to assist in the transition.

For a detailed breakdown of the impacts from annexation, please see the full fiscal plan at bloomington.in.gov/annex. The City reserves the right to update or amend the fiscal plans, as appropriate.
