To Whom It May Concern,

I want to explain why information was sent to residents concerning annexation. I know now it wasn't a decision that should have made, but justification in my mind and heart.

1. As an elected Trustee and feeling responsible to inform approximately 13,000 residents.
2. With the inundated phone calls, emails, and in-person visits to my office it was time for me to help in any way I could think would allow them to receive this information.
3. With all the postcards and letters sent there were only two individuals who responded negative that I remember. Two out of 13,000 was enough evidence to me for justification.
4. Using Rainy Day funding, I performed a notice to residents, with approval from the board, following the procedure below.
 - a. Notified Van Buren Township board and received approval for funding
 - b. Requested the additional appropriations with DLGF and it was approved.
 - c. Placed a legal notice in the newspaper for additional appropriations two times and held a public meeting.

All of the documents distributed were overwhelming approved by almost all of residents not wanting to be annexed. Van Buren Township had the 2nd largest amount of homes of the seven areas being annexed.

Area 1A, 1B and 1C all Van Buren:	Residents
Area 1A – Totally Van Buren Township	1297
Area 1B – Van Buren Township	802
Area 1C – Totally Van Buren Township	106 (all Habitat for Humanity Homes)
Total	2205

Listed below are the remaining area residents:

Area 1B Perry Township (with Van Buren Township)	1602
Area 2 Perry Township	1725
Area 4 Perry Township	106
Area 5 Perry Township	126
Total	3562
Area 2 Salt Creek Township	39
Area 2 Benton Township	6
Area 2, 3, 6, & 7 Bloomington Township	350 (area 6 & 7 were dismissed)
Area 1A Richland Township	306

Average Income for Van Buren Township according to 2020 census:

Household income	38%	$29,314
Household income	38%	$54,096
Household income	22%	$100,000 - $200,000
Household income	2%	Over $200,000

I understand why this was not the best decision however, residents need to know what could occur with their property, especially taking into consideration that in spite of all social media, there are some who have no equipment or idea how to use these resources.

Respectively,

Rita Barrow, Trustee
